Re: James Doe v. Cornell University, Kunk and McGrath: 3:17-cv-00402-GTS-DEP

Dear Judge Peebles:

In response to your Text Order, I am providing this Status Report on the Answer due from Defendants.

The matter was commenced in early May, but later an Amended Complaint was filed and served in late May. Due to the length of the both the original and the Amended Complaint, the Defendant's counsel, Wendy Tarlow, Associate University Counsel, requested an extension of time to Answer until June 30, 2017. Neither she nor I understood that Court approval for such a reasonable extension would or might be required. If mistaken, I apologize to the Court.

We requested in exchange and she agreed on behalf of all defendants to waive any defense to jurisdiction, venue or service of process. That exchange is in writing and can be provided if need be.

Therefore, we expect University Counsel will serve and file the Answer on behalf of all defendants by the end of next week. Please advise, if a more formal submission is required or more details desired.

Respectfully yours,
